Let's unite to educate, inspire, and lead the charge in advancing women's health. Be part of the change and help create a healthier tomorrow!

- This report summarizes the activities conducted by participating FOGSI societies during the Vaccination Week 2025, observed from April 24th to 30th, 2025.
- The Food, Drug, and Medico-Surgical Equipment Committee spearheaded these significant efforts to advance women's health and raise vaccination awareness across various segments of society.
- This report is based on submissions from 29 societies who have actively contributed to this noble cause:
Allahabad, Alwar, Amravati, Berhampur, Bilaspur, Chandigarh, Chitradurga, Delhi, Gorakhpur, Guwahati, Hanamkonda, Hyderabad, Imphal West, Jagtial, Jabalpur, Jaunpur, Kakinada, Korutla, Ludhiana, Muzaffarpur, Namakkal, Pathankot, Patna, Pusad, Raipur, Rajkot, Ratlam, Vijayawada and Wardha.
- The data presented herein reflects the outcomes reported by these societies, encompassing a wide range of activities from CME sessions for our healthcare professionals to community role-play and social media engagement.
- The impact of the FOGSI Vaccination Week celebration is already quite substantial, and we anticipate an even greater reach as more societies submit their reports, showcasing the full extent of our collective efforts.

Conclusion of Vaccination Week

The FOGSI Vaccination Week 2025, organized by the Food, Drug, and Medico-Surgical Equipment Committee, has demonstrated remarkable success in reaching diverse populations and promoting women's health.

The activities conducted by the participating societies showcase a strong commitment, reflecting our cultural ethos of community service, to improving health through education, awareness, and direct action.

The data indicates a significant positive impact. While the data accurately reflects the substantial reach achieved through direct engagement and physical presence, it's important to acknowledge that the actual reach, particularly of TV and radio programs, is likely to be significantly higher due to their wider broadcast and listenership.

However, due to the challenges in obtaining precise figures for these mediums, the reported numbers provide a conservative yet robust estimate of the campaign's success.

This collective effort underscores the power of collaboration and dedication in advancing the cause of vaccination and women's health across our nation.
