Salem in a nutshell

“Nestled amidst valleys of Shevaroy, deriving its name Salem from ancient warriors who wielded swords to guard their Sailam. Like a tiara perch Yercaud atop the hills, serenaded by movies, poets, and artists galore. Beautifully sculpted temples divinisised in the near-by Taramangalam. Serene waters lapping Mettur Dam shores, Steel plant rolls out steel-fortifiers to build our Nation. Our sunset tinged mangoes are pure nectar. Those delicate silver anklets that tinkle numerous feet hail from our local kaarigars. Kolli hills another South Frontier, wild with rampant foliage, a perfect hide-away from decadent world. Slinky soft silks rustle out of colourful wefts mesmerise the entire world. Siberian cranes cruise in on our reclaimed lake paradise Mookaneri. Treasures abound above our land and also beneath too, like magnesite, iron ore bounty. Come and be enchanted by SYLVAN SALEM”

HOST CITY INFORMATION

Salem is a major city in Salem district, located on the banks of Thirumanimutharu river in the Indian state of Tamil Nadu. It is located about 140 kilometres (87 mi) northwest of Tiruchirappalli, 170 kilometres (106 mi) northeast of Coimbatore, 206 kilometres (128 mi) southeast of Bangalore and about 340 kilometres (210 mi) southwest of the state capital, Chennai. Salem is the fifth largest urban agglomeration in the state by population next to Chennai, Coimbatore, Madurai and Trichy and the fifth largest city in Tamil Nadu by area covering 124 km² (48 sq mi)

The city has been a part of Chola Dynasty. A lot of religious places are located within the city. A mosque in the city is believed to be built by Tipu Sultan the ruler of Mysore Kingdom in the present day of Karnataka. The town and the surrounding hilly regions were part of the Chola dynasty and was part of the trade route with the Roman empire. It was later governed by Poligars, who built temples and forts in and around the city. It was part of the Vijayanagara empire before being captured by Hyder Ali during the early 18th century, after the Mysore-Madurai war. It was ceded to the British in 1768 and the area became part of the struggle between Kongu Nadu led by Dheeran Chinnamalai and the British. Salem became part of Salem district since independence in 1947. Salem district was the first district to be formed in India on 4 April 1792 that spread over 7,530 sq km comprising the present-day Namakkal, Dharmapuri and Krishnagiri. Alexander Reed was the collector of the Salem district from 1792 to 1799.
